1. Eliminate Single-Use Water Bottles and Provide Water Refill Stations:

At our properties we host water refill stations for our Members and guests. These stations were used throughout Race Weekend. We also partnered with Boxed Water to provide our guests with a plastic-free alternative.

2. Eliminate Plastic Straws:

We offer customers at Belle's Café paper straws all season, including Race Weekend. We also eliminated plastic straws at all social events throughout Race Weekend.

3. Serve Food with Plastic-Free Dinnerware:

Our Race Weekend restaurants and social events follow the plastic free guidelines.

4. Use or Provide Reusable Bags:

We provided reusable bags for all of our Members & Race Weekend sponsors.

5. Award Practical Items or Use a Perpetual or Upcycled Trophy:

Race Weekend continues to provide awards that are practical items or upcycled trophies. We had silver goblets, crystal trophies, and sustainable cutting boards thanks to our local friends at Soundview Millworks. We also gave the winner of the "Safe Harbor Race Weekend Sportsmanship" award a Beau Lake Stand Up Paddleboard.

We publicized our sustainable efforts prior to, during, and after Race Weekend. Main channels included: e-blasts, social media, website, digital signage, along with Clean Regatta brochures. We also promoted our sustainability efforts through our partnerships with brands like Beau Lake, MARKSETBOT, North Sails and X Shore. We also sent 35 e-blasts to 55,000+ Members and included our sustainable partners on each e-blast.

7. Involve Local Organizations:

We partnered with Soundview Millworks (CT) and Gifted of Larchmont (CT) to provide sustainable awards. We also partnered with X Shore (electric boats) whose local office is at Safe Harbor Newport Shipyard to get our attending Members on the water. We also partnered with Mark Set Bots to provide robotic race markers VS traditional marks that require anchor, chain and additional on-the-water personnel and vessels. We contracted with all local caterers, florists, signage companies, etc. - nobody traveled or shipped in our materials, lowering our carbon footprint.

8. Post Educational and Reusable Signage:

We used as much digital signage as we could and re-used all of our previous static signage. Example: TVs ran logos (including SFS Clean Regattas) and messaging throughout all social events. We also re-used our Race Weekend wooden “sculpture” from previous year and displayed the Beau Lake co-branded paddle board as signage, which was also used as an award!

9. Serve Local Food or Source Seafood Sustainably:

We served local food throughout the entire weekend. All three caterers used during Safe Harbor Race Weekend are based on Aquidneck Island.

10. Organize a Green Team:

Our green team on the water. Our volunteers are a combination of on-shore and on-the-water personnel. Many are local (Rhode Island-based) sailors and race committee volunteers who have experience with regatta management. Others are local volunteers who are familiar with Safe Harbor Newport Shipyard and the local sailing circuit in Newport. We usually have approximately 30 volunteers across the weekend, and they are aware of our mission to host a “Clean Regatta” through recycling, composting, and keeping the local waters clean & free of trash/debris. In our Notice of Race, we establish that Racing Rules of Sailing (RRS) 47 be in effect for trash disposal. See our NOR from 2022 here and here is RRS 47.

11. Ensure Proper Waste Bin Placement and Signage:

We recycle at all of our properties as well as compost! These are out all year long for our members and showcased at Race Weekend. You can also see that we ensure proper bin placement.

12. Divert Food Waste from the Landfill:

We already compost at our properties through local hauler The Compost Plant - super easy for us to continue this process throughout Race Weekend. For composting, we ask that our caterers compost uneaten food. We also use china, glassware & cloth napkins at the larger parties to avoid using single-use plastic/paper.

13. Use Paperless Event Management:

We communicated with e-blasts for all of our logistics for the event, including QR codes for the agenda! We also used YachtScoring.com for all racing-related information and communication.

We leaned heavily into the digital route: e-blasts, social media posts, digital signage, directing sailors to our website, etc., instead of utilizing paper for race information.

14. Host a Beach or Marina Clean-up:

In 2017, Safe Harbor was honored to partner with the Seabin Project as one of only 6 Global Pilot Partners in the world. At launch, we were proud to be the first organization in North America to install the innovative Seabin technology into our locations. At Safe Harbor New England Boatworks (a host location of Safe Harbor Race Weekend), we have installed a similar technology, the marina trash skimmer, which collects debris.

15. Promote Alternative Transportation:

We provide X Shore (electric boat) transportation to any location our Members want to go to throughout the weekend!

OUR FOCUS ON GREEN ENERGY

Safe Harbor is leading the way in the electrification of the marina business. Through strategic partnerships, we have taken steps to prepare for an electric future and to provide our Members with cleaner options. Our investments to date take the form of electric vehicles (both boats and cars) for our Members' use, electric equipment for our Teammates' use, and investments in solar and LED for our operations. We are eager and excited to partner with industry-leading Original Equipment Manufacturers (OEMs) who are developing the tools that we will be deploying at the next generation of green marinas.

We partnered with X Shore to get our Members on the water, without burning fuel, to watch Safe Harbor Race Weekend in action. We also promoted sailing and cutting back on fuel when applicable.

Bonus Opportunities:

We asked all of our sponsors to support our mission of being a Clean Regatta! My favorite is Mount Gay Rum partnered with 4 Ocean and created bracelets for our participants. Another favorite is Beau Lake used a Stand Up Paddleboard as Safe Harbor signage throughout the weekend and then gave it away as an award.

Similar to last year, the Friday night event was hosted at “The Point” at Safe Harbor New England Boatworks, which is one of the most sustainable venues in the area created by Safe Harbor. In lieu of transporting all the dredging material generated from the marina expansion project to offsite dumping grounds either in Narragansett Bay or offshore, Safe Harbor was able to re-purpose that material on the piece of our property that we now refer to as “The Point”. Once the new venue/area was created, we experienced the view and realized the opportunity to host events.

We also used fabric wristbands (not plastic/Tyvek) and our Members used the same wristband throughout the weekend instead of us providing new wristbands daily for access.
